RACIAL TRAITS

Great Weapon Master Revised. On your turn, when you score a critical hit with a melee weapon or reduce a creature to 0 hit points with one, you can make one melee weapon attack as a bonus action. Before you make a melee attack with a heavy weapon that you are proficient with, you can choose to take a penalty equal to your proficiency bonus to the attack roll. If the attack hits, you add double amount of your proficiency bonus to the attack's damage.

Telepathic. You can speak telepathically to any creature you can see within 60 feet of you. Your telepathic utterances are in a language you know, and the creature understands you only if it knows that language. Your communication doesn't give the creature the ability to respond to you telepathically.

You can cast the detect thoughts spell, requiring no spell slot or components, and you must finish a long rest before you can cast this it this way again. Your spellcasting ability for this spell is Charisma. If you have spell slots of 2nd level or higher, you can cast this spell with them.

Tough. Your hit points maximum increases by 22.

Darkvision. You can see in dim light within 60 feet of you as if it were bright light, and in darkness as if it were dim light.

Lay on Hands (Bonus Action—55/Long Rest). You can touch a creature and draw power from the pool to restore a number of hp to that creature, up to the maximum amount remaining in your pool. You can expend 5 hp from your pool of healing to cure the target of one disease or neutralize one poison affecting it.This feature has no effect on undead and constructs.

Spellcasting. You can prepare 10 spells from your spell list. You can use a holy symbol as your spellcasting focus.

Weapon Mastery.

Graze. If your attack roll with this weapon misses a creature, you can deal damage to that creature equal to the ability modifier you used to make the attack roll. This damage is the same type dealt by the weapon, and the damage can't be increased in any way, other than increasing the ability modifier.

Topple. If you hit a creature with this weapon, you can force the creature to make a Constitution saving throw with a DC equal to 8 + your Proficiency Bonus + the ability modifier you used to make the attack roll. On a failed save, the creature has the Prone condition.

Fighting Style.

Defense. While you are wearing armor, you gain a +1 bonus to AC.

Paladin's Smite (1/Long Rest). You always have the Divine Smite spell prepared. Additionally, you can cast Divine Smite spell without expending a spell slot once per long rest.

Channel Divinity (3/Long Rest). You can use your Channel Divinity options to fuel magical effects. You regain 1 expended use on a Short Rest and all on a Long Rest.

Divine Sense (Bonus Action—Channel Divinity). Detect Celestials, Fiends, and Undead, or consecrated/desecrated places within 60ft for 10 minutes.

Extra Attack. You can attack twice instead of once whenever you take the Attack action on your turn.

Faithful Steed (1/Long Rest). You can cast Find Steed once without expending a spell slot.

Aura of Protection. You and allies in a 10-foot emanation gain a +4 bonus to saving throws. Inactive if you are Incapacitated.

Abjure Foes (Magic Action—Channel Divinity). Target 4 creatures within 60 feet. They must succeed on a Wisdom save (DC 16) or be Frightened for 1 minute. While Frightened, they can only move, take an action, or take a bonus action on their turn. Ends if the target takes damage.

Aura of Courage. You and allies in your Aura of Protection have immunity to the Frightened condition. If a Frightened ally enters the aura, the condition is suppressed while they remain inside.

Radiant Strikes. When you hit a target with a Melee weapon or an Unarmed Strike, you deal an extra 1d8 Radiant damage.

Channel Divinity: Vow of Enmity (Channel Divinity). When you take the Attack action, target a creature within 30ft. You have Advantage on attack rolls against it for 1 minute. If it drops to 0 HP, you can transfer this vow to another creature within 30ft (no action required).

Relentless Avenger (Reaction). When you hit with an Opportunity Attack, the target's Speed becomes 0. You can then move up to half your Speed without provoking Opportunity Attacks.

I'm always polite and respectful.

PERSONALITY TRAITS

Greater Good. Our lot is to lay down our lives in defense of others. (Good)

IDEAL

I would still lay down my life for the people I served with.

BOND

The monstrous enemy we faced in battle still leaves me quivering with fear.

FLAW

War has been your life for as long as you care to remember. You trained as a youth, studied the use of weapons and armor, learned basic survival techniques, including how to stay alive on the battlefield. You might have been part of a standing national army or a mercenary company, or perhaps a member of a local militia who rose to prominence during a recent war.

When you choose this background, work with your DM to determine which military organization you were a part of, how far through its ranks you progressed, and what kind of experiences you had during your military career. Was it a standing army, a town guard, or a village militia? Or it might have been a noble's or merchant's private army, or a mercenary company.

BACKGROUND STORY

Military Rank

You have a military rank from your career as a soldier. Soldiers loyal to your former military organization still recognize your authority and influence, and they defer to you if they are of a lower rank. You can invoke your rank to exert influence over other soldiers and requisition simple equipment or horses for temporary use. You can also usually gain access to friendly military encampments and fortresses where your rank is recognized.

Veil of Vesperis.
When the last mourner of Vesperis wept herself into nothing, her grief did not vanish — it clung. To the cold air, to the stones of her tomb, to the very dark that swallowed the candlelight. What remained was not a ghost, but a hunger: strands of her sorrow given form, drifting endlessly, reaching for warmth they will never find again. To graft the Veil is not to wear her grief. It is to become its vessel.
Long, shadowy tendrils cascade from the host's arm, woven from something between darkness and memory. They drift and coil with a ghostly, weightless sway — not like cloth or hair, but like smoke that has learned to mourn. Cold, flickering lights pulse through each strand at irregular intervals, as though the faint echoes of extinguished souls still wander within them. The arm itself seems to lose its edges, the boundary between flesh and shadow growing indistinct; to look directly at it is to feel the quiet, creeping certainty that something on the other side is looking back.

Eldritch Affinity — Necrotic. The Veil drinks deeply of the dark. Death's own entropy seeps into the host's body through the graft, threading into the marrow and weaving itself around every vital organ like a second skin of shadow. Decay slows; corruption falters; the necrotic forces that unmake lesser creatures find no purchase here, turned aside not by strength, but by kinship. You gain resistance to necrotic damage.

Lament of the Fallen. As an action, you release a wave of mournful whispers in a 30-foot radius. Each creature within range must succeed on a DC 16 Constitution saving throw or take 3d6 psychic damage. Once used, you can't use this property again until you finish a long rest.

Shroud of Grief. As a reaction when you are targeted by an attack, you wrap the spectral tendrils around your body. You gain a +1 bonus to AC against the triggering attack, and the attacker must succeed on a DC 15 Wisdom saving throw or become frightened of you until the end of their next turn. Once used, you can't use this property again until you finish a long rest.

Tendrils of Despair. As an action, you animate the ghostly tendrils to lash out at up to three creatures within 10 feet of you. Each target must succeed on a DC 16 Dexterity saving throw or take 2d6 psychic damage and become restrained by the spectral strands. While restrained, a creature can use its action to make a DC 16 Strength or Dexterity check (its choice), escaping on a success. Once used, you can't use this property again until you finish a long rest.

Developmental Growth. At 5th level, the range of Tendrils of Despair increases to 20 feet. At 10th level, the AC bonus of Shroud of Grief increases to +2. At 15th level, the damage of Lament of the Fallen increases to 4d6.

Goggles of Night. While wearing these dark lenses, you have darkvision out to a range of 60 feet. If you already have darkvision, wearing the goggles increases its range by 60 feet.

The Wrath God's Mark (Drawn).
This strip of flesh, carved with jagged, thorn-like patterns, is said to be the remains of the first bearer of the powers of Wrath. The mark was branded upon a grieving father who lost his two children to the hooves of a Scourge beast after they foolishly ventured into the streets during a Hunt. Overcome by grief and rage, the mark transformed him into a vessel of destruction, granting him the strength to tear apart anything that stood before him. Yet such power demanded a price. The mark fed endlessly upon his sorrow, hollowing his mind and twisting his purpose into blind annihilation. Before he could unleash his fury upon the world, agents of the Radiant Church subdued him and flayed the cursed flesh from his body. But rather than destroy the mark, the Church recognized its terrible potential. Within their deepest sanctums, they began studying the carving, discovering that its wrath resonated violently with the essence of the Scourge. Through forbidden rites and relentless experimentation, they shaped the mark into a weapon—a controlled conduit of fury meant to turn the Scourge's own nature against it. Even now, the flesh radiates a faint, simmering heat. Those who bear it feel echoes of the original father's grief and rage, a reminder that the power forged to fight monsters is never free from becoming one.
—Archive Records of Murut Order

Drawn Effect. When you roll Initiative, you can let the mark consume you for 1 minute (no action required). You gain the following benefits:

- Hand of Destruction.
- When you take the Attack action on your turn, you can make an additional attack as part of the same action.
- Wrathful Resistance.
- Choose one damage type from among Bludgeoning, Piercing, or Slashing. You gain Resistance to that damage type.

After the duration, you must succeed on a DC 15 Wisdom saving throw or gain a long-term madness.
Once you use this carving, you can't do so again until you finish a Long Rest.

Detect Thoughts

2nd-level divination

CASTING TIME	1 action
RANGE	Self
DURATION	Concentration, up to 1 minute
COMPONENTS	V, S, M (a copper piece)

For the duration, you can read the thoughts of certain creatures. When you cast the spell and as your action on each turn until the spell ends, you can focus your mind on any one creature that you can see within 30 feet of you. If the creature you choose has an Intelligence of 3 or lower or doesn't speak any language, the creature is unaffected.

You initially learn the surface thoughts of the creature—what is most on its mind in that moment. As an action, you can either shift your attention to another creature's thoughts or attempt to probe deeper into the same creature's mind. If you probe deeper, the target must make a Wisdom saving throw. If it fails, you gain insight into its reasoning (if any), its emotional state, and something that looms large in its mind (such as something it worries over, loves, or hates). If it succeeds, the spell ends. Either way, the target knows that you are probing into its mind, and unless you shift your attention to another creature's thoughts, the creature can use its action on its turn to make an Intelligence check contested by your Intelligence check; if it succeeds, the spell ends.

Questions verbally directed at the target creature naturally shape the course of its thoughts, so this spell is particularly effective as part of an interrogation.

You can also use this spell to detect the presence of thinking creatures you can't see. When you cast the spell or as your action during the duration, you can search for thoughts within 30 feet of you. The spell can penetrate barriers, but 2 feet of rock, 2 inches of any metal other than lead, or a thin sheet of lead blocks you. You can't detect a creature with an Intelligence of 3 or lower or one that doesn't speak any language.

Once you detect the presence of a creature in this way, you can read its thoughts for the rest of the duration as described above, even if you can't see it, but it must still be within range.

Telepathic Player's Handbook

Find Steed

2nd-level conjuration

CASTING TIME	10 minutes
RANGE	30 feet
DURATION	Instantaneous
COMPONENTS	V, S

You summon a spirit that assumes the form of an unusually intelligent, strong, and loyal steed, creating a long-lasting bond with it. Appearing in an unoccupied space within range, the steed takes on a form that you choose, such as a warhorse, a pony, a camel, an elk, or a mastiff. (Your DM might allow other animals to be summoned as steeds.) The steed has the statistics of the chosen form, though it is a celestial, fey, or fiend (your choice) instead of its normal type. Additionally, if your steed has an Intelligence of 5 or less, its Intelligence becomes 6, and it gains the ability to understand one language of your choice that you speak.

Your steed serves you as a mount, both in combat and out, and you have an instinctive bond with it that allows you to fight as a seamless unit. While mounted on your steed, you can make any spell you cast that targets only you also target your steed.

When the steed drops to 0 hit points, it disappears, leaving behind no physical form. You can also dismiss your steed at any time as an action, causing it to disappear. In either case, casting this spell again summons the same steed, restored to its hit point maximum.

While your steed is within 1 mile of you, you can communicate with each other telepathically.

You can't have more than one steed bonded by this spell at a time. As an action, you can release the steed from its bond at any time, causing it to disappear.

Faithful Steed (Paladin(2024)) Player's Handbook

Choose a humanoid that you can see within range. The target must succeed on a Wisdom saving throw or be paralyzed for the duration. At the end of each of its turns, the target can make another Wisdom saving throw. On a success, the spell ends on the target.

At Higher Levels. When you cast this spell using a spell slot of 3rd level or higher, you can target on additional humanoid for each slot level above 2nd. The humanoids must be within 30 feet of each other when you target them.

Oath Spells (Paladin(2024)) Player's Handbook

Magic Weapon

2nd-level transmutation

RANGE	Touch
DURATION	Concentration, up to 1 hour

Veil of Vesperis

Wondrous Items

When the last mourner of Vesperis wept herself into nothing, her grief did not vanish — it clung. To the cold air, to the stones of her tomb, to the very dark that swallowed the candlelight. What remained was not a ghost, but a hunger: strands of her sorrow given form, drifting endlessly, reaching for warmth they will never find again. To graft the Veil is not to wear her grief. It is to become its vessel.

Long, shadowy tendrils cascade from the host's arm, woven from something between darkness and memory. They drift and coil with a ghostly, weightless sway — not like cloth or hair, but like smoke that has learned to mourn. Cold, flickering lights pulse through each strand at irregular intervals, as though the faint echoes of extinguished souls still wander within them. The arm itself seems to lose its edges, the boundary between flesh and shadow growing indistinct; to look directly at it is to feel the quiet, creeping certainty that something on the other side is looking back.

Eldritch Affinity — Necrotic. The Veil drinks deeply of the dark. Death's own entropy seeps into the host's body through the graft, threading into the marrow and weaving itself around every vital organ like a second skin of shadow. Decay slows; corruption falters; the necrotic forces that unmake lesser creatures find no purchase here, turned aside not by strength, but by kinship. You gain resistance to necrotic damage.

Lament of the Fallen. As an action, you release a wave of mournful whispers in a 30-foot radius. Each creature within range must succeed on a DC 16 Constitution saving throw or take 3d6 psychic damage. Once used, you can't use this property again until you finish a long rest.

Shroud of Grief. As a reaction when you are targeted by an attack, you wrap the spectral tendrils around your body. You gain a +1 bonus to AC against the triggering attack, and the attacker must succeed on a DC 15 Wisdom saving throw or become frightened of you until the end of their next turn. Once used, you can't use this property again until you finish a long rest.

Tendrils of Despair. As an action, you animate the ghostly tendrils to lash out at up to three creatures within 10 feet of you. Each target must succeed on a DC 16 Dexterity saving throw or take 2d6 psychic damage and become restrained by the spectral strands. While restrained, a creature can use its action to make a DC 16 Strength or Dexterity check (its choice), escaping on a success. Once used, you can't use this property again until you finish a long rest.

Developmental Growth. At 5th level, the range of Tendrils of Despair increases to 20 feet. At 10th level, the AC bonus of Shroud of Grief increases to +2. At 15th level, the damage of Lament of the Fallen increases to 4d6.

The Wrath God's Mark (Drawn)

Eldritch Carvings

This strip of flesh, carved with jagged, thorn-like patterns, is said to be the remains of the first bearer of the powers of Wrath. The mark was branded upon a grieving father who lost his two children to the hooves of a Scourge beast after they foolishly ventured into the streets during a Hunt. Overcome by grief and rage, the mark transformed him into a vessel of destruction, granting him the strength to tear apart anything that stood before him. Yet such power demanded a price. The mark fed endlessly upon his sorrow, hollowing his mind and twisting his purpose into blind annihilation. Before he could unleash his fury upon the world, agents of the Radiant Church subdued him and flayed the cursed flesh from his body. But rather than destroy the mark, the Church recognized its terrible potential. Within their deepest sanctums, they began studying the carving, discovering that its wrath resonated violently with the essence of the Scourge. Through forbidden rites and relentless experimentation, they shaped the mark into a weapon—a controlled conduit of fury meant to turn the Scourge's own nature against it. Even now, the flesh radiates a faint, simmering heat. Those who bear it feel echoes of the original father's grief and rage, a reminder that the power forged to fight monsters is never free from becoming one.

- On your turn, when you score a critical hit with a melee weapon or reduce a creature to 0 hit points with one, you can make one melee weapon attack as a bonus action.
- Before you use your "Attack Action" to make a melee attack with a heavy weapon that you are proficient with, you can choose to take a penalty equal to your proficiency bonus to the attack roll. If the attack hits, you add double amount of your proficiency bonus to the attack's damage.

You prepare the list of level 1+ spells that are available for you to cast with this feature. To start, choose two level 1 Paladin spells.

The number of spells on your list increases as you gain Paladin levels, as shown in the Prepared Spells column of the Paladin Features table. Whenever that number increases, choose additional Paladin spells until the number of spells on your list matches the number in the Paladin Features table. The chosen spells must be of a level for which you have spell slots.
