SPEED, SENSES, & CONDITIONS

Chromatic Ancestry. Your ancestor was a blue dragon. Your Chromatic Ancestry damage type is lightning.

Breath Weapon (Attack—4/Long Rest). You can replace one of your attacks with an exhalation of a magical energy in a 30-foot line that is 5 feet wide. Each creature in the area must make a Dexterity saving throw against a DC15. On a failed save, the creature takes 3d10 lightning damage, or half as much damage on a successful one.

Chromatic Warding (Action—1/Long Rest). You can channel your draconic energies to protect yourself. For 1 minute, you become immune to the lightning damage.

Vampiric Conduit (1/Short Rest). You can cast the chosen Vampire Blood Magic spell once at its 4th-level version without expending a spell slot or requiring material components. You regain the ability to cast the spell in this way when you finish a short rest. Your spellcasting ability for this spell is varies by chosen spell.

Blood Bound Beacon. Your soul is no longer private. The vampire who granted you this gift knows your exact location at all times, regardless of distance or across different planes of existence. You cannot be hidden from the Creator by any magical or non-magical means.

Sanguine Weakness. Your body has been sharing some of the vampire weaknesses. Your resistances and immunities can bypassed if the attack is made with a Silvered weapons or any other silvered manners. Additionally, you can't regain any hit points after getting hit with silvered attacks until start of your next turn.

RACIAL TRAITS

Darkvision. You can see in dim light within 60 feet of you as if it were bright light, and in darkness as if it were dim light.

Tough. Your hit points maximum increases by 22.

Sneak Attack. Once per turn, you can deal an extra 3d6 damage to one creature you hit with an attack if you have advantage on the attack roll. The attack must use a finesse or a ranged weapon.You don't need advantage on the attack roll if another enemy of the target is within 5 feet of it, that enemy isn't incapacitated, and you don't have disadvantage on the attack roll.

Thieves' Cant. A secret mix of dialect, jargon, and code that allows you to hide messages in seemingly normal conversation. Only another creature that knows thieves' cant understands such messages. It takes four times longer to convey such a message than it does to speak the same idea plainly.In addition, you understand a set of secret signs and symbols used to convey short, simple messages, such as whether an area is dangerous or the territory of a thieves' guild, whether loot is nearby, or whether the people in an area are easy marks or will provide a safe house for thieves on the run.

Weapon Mastery.
Nick. When you make the extra attack of the Light property, you can make it as part of the Attack action, instead of as a Bonus Action. You can still make this extra attack only once per turn.
Vex. If you hit a creature with this weapon and deal damage to the creature, you have Advantage on your next attack roll against that creature before the end of your next turn.

Cunning Action. On your turn, you can take one of the following actions as a Bonus Action: Dash, Disengage, or Hide.

Steady Aim (Bonus Action). You give yourself Advantage on your next attack roll on the current turn, if you haven't moved during your turn. After you use this feature, your Speed becomes 0 until the end of your turn.

Cunning Strike. Whenever, you're able to deal Sneak Attack damage, you can add extra effects, exchange of substracting desired amount from your Sneak Attack damage die. Your DC is 17.

Poison (Cost: 1d6) (Cunning Strike). The target must succeed on a Constitution saving throw, or it becomes poisoned condition for 1 minute. To use this effect, you must have a Poisoner's Kit on you.

Trip (Cost: 1d6) (Cunning Strike). If the target is Large or smaller, it must succeed on a Dexterity saving throw or have the Prone condition.

Withdraw (Cost: 1d6) (Cunning Strike). Immediately after the attack, you move up to half your Speed without provoking Opportunity Attacks.

Uncanny Dodge (Reaction). When an attacker that you can see hits you with an attack, you can halve the attack's damage against you (round down).

Sanctified Champion. At the end of a long rest, you can perform a ritual on a melee weapon you are proficient with that deals piercing or slashing damage, sanctifying it. It becomes your sanctified blade, and you can only have one such blade at a time. When in your hands, your sanctified blade has the finesse property and is considered silvered.

Divine Blessings (1/Short Rest). You have a pool of points that you can expend to fuel this divine power called Divine points. The number of points in the pool equals 1. You regain all your expended Divine points when you finish a short or long rest. In addition, each time you kill an aberration, beast, fiend, or undead of CR ½ or higher with your sanctified blade, you regain one Divine point. Each time you expend a Divine point you gain 0 temporary hit points.
You know the following features that each use your Divine points:
• Armor of the Faithful. When a creature targets you with an attack, you can expend one Divine point as a reaction. The target must make a DC 12 Wisdom saving throw. On a failed save, the creature must choose a new target or lose the attack or spell, and the creature can't target you until the start of your next turn. This feature doesn't protect you from area effects, such as the explosion of a fireball.
• Divine Inspiration. When you make a Religion, a History, or an Insight check, you can expend one Divine point to reroll the die and must use the new result. You can choose to do so after you roll the die, but before the outcome is determined. You gain a bonus to the check equal to 0.
• Rend the Blasphemous. On your turn after taking the Attack action with your sanctified blade, you can expend one Divine point as bonus action to let the divine hand guide you. Make a weapon attack against a creature within your reach. You gain a bonus to your attack roll equal to 0.

Rage (Bonus Action—4/Long Rest). Advantage on Strength checks and Strength Saves. A +2 to damage rolls with strength melee weapon attacks. You have resistance to bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing damage.

Unarmored Defense. While you aren't wearing armor, your AC equals 18. You can use a shield and still gain this benefit.

Reckless Attack. When you make your first attack on your turn, you can decide to attack recklessly. Doing so gives you advantage on melee weapon attack rolls using Strength during this turn, but attack rolls against you have advantage until your next turn.

Danger Sense. You have advantage on Dexterity saving throws against effects that you can see, such as traps and spells. To gain this benefit, you can't be blinded, deafened, or incapacitated.

Extra Attack. You can attack twice, instead of once, whenever you take the Attack action on your turn.

Fast Movement. Your speed increases by 10 feet while you aren't wearing heavy armor.

Ancestral Protectors. When raging, the first target you hit with an attack on your turn becomes the target of spectral warriors. Until the start of your next turn, target has disadvantage on attack rolls that isn't against you, and when it hits a creature other than you, that creature has resistance to the damage dealt by the attack.

Spirit Shield (Reaction). When raging, if another creature within 30ft takes damage, you can reduce that damage by 2d6.

You might want to tweak some of the features of a background so it better fits your character or the campaign setting. To customize a background, you can replace one feature with any other one, choose any two skills, and choose a total of two tool proficiencies or languages from the sample backgrounds. You can either use the equipment package from your background or spend coin on gear as described in chapter 5. (If you spend coin, you can't also take the equipment package suggested for your class.) Finally, choose two personality traits, one ideal, one bond, and one flaw. If you can't find a feature that matches your desired background, work with your DM to create one.

BACKGROUND STORY

City Secrets

You know the secret patterns and flow to cities and can find passages through the urban sprawl that others would miss. When you are not in combat, you (and companions you lead) can travel between any two locations in the city twice as fast as your speed would normally allow.

ADDITIONAL TREASURE

Judgment's Ember.
To hold Judgment's Ember is to carry a shard of a dying star that has been taught the meaning of justice. Forged by the elite smiths of the Jaeger Corps, these blades were never intended to be singular relics, but a burning standard carried by those brave enough to look the Scourge in its many eyes. Among all who bore the flame, none were more legendary than Gideon Harrow, a bastion of the Jaeger whose sword was the first light seen in the darkest pits of the rot. Yet, the tragedy of the Scourge Hunt spares no one; Gideon fell not to the tooth or claw of the beast, but to the slow, insidious corruption that turned his righteous fire into an aberrant, everflaming nightmare. As a Fallen Hunter, Gideon became a scorched ghost of his former self—an eldritch horror of eternal ash that turned this holy implement against his own kin, hunting the hunters with a twisted, sacrificial zeal. For years, the ember burned with a corrupted, fratricidal heat until the path of the Fallen Hunter crossed with five destined souls: Orv Bezmedan, Zephyr, Luwanna, Stephen, and Rin. In a battle that shook the foundations of the Burning North Forest, the heroes did what the Jaeger could not—they quenched the blade's madness in Gideon's own tortured blood, granting the old warrior a final, cooling peace and reclaiming the ember to once again serve as the ultimate, searing answer to the darkness.
You have a +3 bonus to attack and damage rolls made with this magic weapon. Additionally, it deals an extra 2d6 fire damage on a hit.
Searing Bane. This weapon deals an additional 1d10 fire or radiant damage to Aberrations and Fiends.
Jaeger's Intuition. While attuned to this blade, you have Advantage on Wisdom (Survival) checks to track Aberrations and Intelligence (Nature) checks to identify their weaknesses. You can also sense the presence of Aberrations within 1 mile, though you do not know their exact location.
Mantle of the Purifying Flame. The intense heat of the blade protects its wielder. While attuned to this sword, you have Resistance to Fire and Radiant damage. Additionally, you are Immune to the effects of extreme heat and are not affected by high-temperature environments.
Scourge-Fire Mastery. The fire produced by this blade is forged from pure righteous will, making it nearly impossible to resist. While attuned to this weapon, your attacks, spells and features ignores Fire Resistance. Furthermore, you treat Fire Immunity as Fire Resistance when dealing damage with this sword. Creatures that Immune to fire damage are treated as having resistance instead.
Ashen Leap (1/Long Rest). As an action, you transform into a swirling pillar of ash and flame, soaring into the air and crashing down at a point you can see within 60 feet. Upon impact, each creature of your choice within 20 feet of that point must make a DC 18 Dexterity saving throw. On a failure, a creature takes 6d8 fire damage and is knocked Prone. On a success, a creature takes half as much damage and isn't knocked prone. You can use this feature once per long rest.
The Burning Decree (Proficiency Bonus/Long Rest). As a bonus action, you can stoke the blade's flames to judge your foes. Until the start of your next turn, the weapon deals an extra 1d8 fire or radiant damage of your choice. Any creature hit by an attack while this feature is active has its speed reduced by 10 feet until the end of its next turn. You can use this feature a number of times equal to your Proficiency Bonus per Long Rest.

Cloak of Protection. You gain a +1 bonus to AC and saving throws while you wear this cloak.

Gauntlets of the Frosted Magma Chain.
The chains that once bound the wind now anchor your foes in burning defiance. Forged from the crushed obsidian plates of Koralith's armor, these gauntlets are etched with chain motifs glowing faintly like cold embers.
While you're in some sort of trance or form (like Rage, Innate Sorcery, Superior Defense etc.), you gain +1 bonus to AC.
Magmatic Oppertunist: When you miss an attack towards one creature, you can use your reaction to strike again to same creature at the beginning of the creatures turn. You can use this feature once in Short Rest.
Momentum Breaker: Once per long rest, when you reduce a creature to 0 hit points with an attack, you may immediately use your reaction to either take the Hide action or Instantly move up to half your movement and gain resistance to bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing damage until the start of your next turn.

Tempest's Gale Essence (Awakened).
What was once a mere splinter of a forgotten storm has become a thrumming, violet heart, awakened by the bittersweet resonance of a parting gift. As Oris pressed the crystalline shard into Zephyr's palm for the final time, the faint whispers of the wind surged into a triumphant, ancestral choir, finally hailing the Herald they had long awaited. The essence no longer merely crackles; it breathes with the rhythmic fury of a hurricane, its silver radiance a testament to a bond that transcends physical distance. To hold it is to feel the sky's own blood coursing through one's veins—a promise that wherever the wind blows, the power of the Storm Vessel remains shared, turning every strike into a jagged lash of divine wrath and every ascent into a soaring defiance of the earth. It is more than a weapon; it is the lingering echo of a friend's faith, transformed into a celestial gale that shall never fall silent.
This awakened essence hangs from a silver chain, the central shard thrumming with the power of a contained storm.
Tempest Wrath. Once per turn, when you hit with a weapon or spell attack, you deal an extra 2d8 Lightning damage. If the target is wearing metal armor or is made of water/metal, this damage increases to 3d8.
Aero Kinetic Ascent. As a bonus action, you gain a flying speed of 60 feet (hover) for 1 minute. While flying, you are immune to being knocked Prone by wind-based effects. Additionally, once during this duration, you can move like a lightning bolt, moving up to your full speed as a free action; any creature you pass through must make a DC 16 Dexterity Saving Throw or take 4d6 Lightning damage and half as much on a successful one.
Storm Vessel Synergy. Once per long rest, you can use your action to unleash the energy stored within the shard to protect your allies. Choose up to 3 creatures within 30 feet. For 1 minute, their weapons deal an additional 1d6 Lightning damage, and they gain Resistance to Lightning damage.

Goggles of Night. While wearing these dark lenses, you have darkvision out to a range of 60 feet. If you already have darkvision, wearing the goggles increases its range by 60 feet.

Gümüş ve İşlemeli Haç Kolye. Bu zarif ama ürpertici haç, saf gümüşten dövülmüş olup üzerine eski ve neredeyse unutulmuş bir dilde kazınmış karmaşık dualar işlenmiştir. Karanlıkta belli belirsiz titreşen bir ışıltıyla parlayan işlemeler, sanki bir zamanlar kutsal bir varlık tarafından mühürlenmiş gibi hissettirir. Ancak yüzeyine dikkatlice bakıldığında, haçın merkezindeki taşın altından kırmızımsı damarlar gibi ince çatlaklar yayıldığı görülebilir—sanki içindeki bir güç hala uyanmayı bekliyormuş gibi.

Chest (25+25 lbs). Sandığın İçindekiler:
İçinde Zephyr'in üstündeki grubun tüm parası var.
50 gp gemstones (×1; worth 50 gp total):
Onyx (opaque bands of black and white, or pure black or white)
Tasha's Hideous Laughter Spell Scroll'u

Mark of the Sanguine Heart.
Through the dark arts of a high-born vampire, your life was tethered back to the material plane. In place of your natural heartbeat, a jagged, obsidian-like mark pulses with a predatory rhythm. This brand is not just a scar; it is a conduit for the ancient blood magic of the forbidden Vampiric Dark Arts.
Vampiric Conduit: You learn one spell of your choice from the Vampire Blood Magic spell list. You can cast this spell once at its 4th-level version without expending a spell slot or requiring material components. You regain the ability to cast the spell in this way when you finish a short or long rest. Your spellcasting ability for this spell is varies by chosen spell.
Blood Bound Beacon: Your soul is no longer private. The vampire who granted you this gift knows your exact location at all times, regardless of distance or across different planes of existence. You cannot be hidden from the Creator by any magical or non-magical means. Additionally, as a bonus action, the Creator can speak through your mark, allowing their voice to whisper directly into your mind.
Sanguine Weakness: Your body has been sharing some of the vampire weaknesses. Your resistances and immunities can bypassed if the attack is made with a Silvered

Thieves' Tools

Tools

Perhaps the most common tools used by adventurers, thieves' tools are designed for picking locks and foiling traps. Proficiency with the tools also grants you a general knowledge of traps and locks.

Components. Thieves' tools include a small file, a set Of lock picks, a small mirror mounted on a metal handle, a set of narrow—bladed scissors, and a pair of pliers.

History. Your knowledge of traps grants you insight when answering questions about locations that are renowned for their traps.

Investigation and Perception. You gain additional insight when looking for traps, because you have learned a variety of common signs that betray their presence.

Set a Trap. Just as you can disable traps, you can also set them. As part of a short rest, you can create a trap using items you have on hand. The total of your check becomes the DC for someone else's attempt to discover or disable the trap. The trap deals damage appropriate to the materials used in crafting it (such as poison or a weapon) or damage equal to half the total of your check, whichever the DM deems appropriate.

Tinderbox

Adventuring Gear

This small container holds flint, fire steel, and tinder (usually dry cloth soaked in light oil) used to kindle a fire. Using it to light a torch—or anything else with abundant, exposed fuel—takes an action. Lighting any other fire takes 1 minute.

1 lb. Player's Handbook

Torch

Adventuring Gear

A torch burns for 1 hour, providing bright light in a 20-foot radius and dim light for an additional 20 feet. If you make a melee attack with a burning torch and hit, it deals 1 fire damage.

Aberration

Hailing from the Anomalies, distant planes of existence far from the established cosmological wheel, the physiology of these creatures are wholly dissimilar to those of the Material Plane's denizens. However, sporadic similarities between the anatomy of an aberration and that of beasts or humanoids have given rise to the hypothesis that perhaps aberrations have been more… 'involved' in evolutionary history.

Mark of the Sanguine Heart

Supernatural Gifts

Through the dark arts of a high-born vampire, your life was tethered back to the material plane. In place of your natural heartbeat, a jagged, obsidian-like mark pulses with a predatory rhythm. This brand is not just a scar; it is a conduit for the ancient blood magic of the forbidden Vampiric Dark Arts.

Vampiric Conduit: You learn one spell of your choice from the Vampire Blood Magic spell list. You can cast this spell once at its 4th-level version without expending a spell slot or requiring material components. You regain the ability to cast the spell in this way when you finish a short or long rest. Your spellcasting ability for this spell is varies by chosen spell.

Blood Bound Beacon: Your soul is no longer private. The vampire who granted you this gift knows your exact location at all times, regardless of distance or across different planes of existence. You cannot be hidden from the Creator by any magical or non-magical means. Additionally, as a bonus action, the Creator can speak through your mark, allowing their voice to whisper directly into your mind.

Sanguine Weakness: Your body has been sharing some of the vampire weaknesses. Your resistances and immunities can bypassed if the attack is made with a Silvered weapons or any other silvered manners. Additionally, you can't regain any hit points after getting hit with silvered attacks until start of your next turn.

Racial Trait

Chromatic Ancestry — Fizban's Treasury of Dragons

Breath Weapon

Racial Trait

When you take the Attack action on your turn, you can replace one of your attacks with an exhalation of magical energy in a 30-foot line that is 5 feet wide. Each creature in that area must make a Dexterity saving throw (DC = 8 + your Constitution modifier + your proficiency bonus). On a failed save, the creature takes 1d10 damage of the type associated with your Chromatic Ancestry. On a successful save, it takes half as much damage. This damage increases by 1d10 when you reach 5th level (2d10), 11th level (3d10), and 17th level (4d10).

You can use your Breath Weapon a number of times equal to your proficiency bonus, and you regain all expended uses when you finish a long rest.

Dragonborn (Chromatic) — Fizban's Treasury of Dragons

Chromatic Warding

Racial Trait

Starting at 5th level, as an action, you can channel your draconic energy to protect yourself. For 1 minute, you become immune to the damage type associated with your Chromatic Ancestry. Once you use this trait, you can't do so again until you finish a long rest.

Dragonborn (Chromatic) — Fizban's Treasury of Dragons

Darkvision

Vision

Many creatures in the worlds of D&D, especially those that dwell underground, have darkvision. Within a specified range, a creature with darkvision can see in darkness as if the darkness were dim light, so areas of darkness are only lightly obscured as far as that creature is concerned. However, the creature can't discern color in darkness, only shades of gray.

Sneak Attack

Class Feature

You know how to strike subtly and exploit a foe's distraction. Once per turn, you can deal an extra 1d6 damage to one creature you hit with an attack roll if you have Advantage on the roll and the attack uses a Finesse or a Ranged weapon. The extra damage's type is the same as the weapon's type.

You don't need Advantage on the attack roll if at least one of your allies is within 5 feet of the target, the ally doesn't have the Incapacitated condition, and you don't have Disadvantage on the attack roll.

The extra damage increases as you gain Rogue levels, as shown in the Sneak Attack column of the Rogue Features table.

Rogue(2024) — HailJoe Classes

Thieves' Cant

Class Feature

During your rogue training you learned thieves' cant, a secret mix of dialect, jargon, and code that allows you to hide messages in seemingly normal conversation. Only another creature that knows thieves' cant understands such messages. It takes four times longer to convey such a message than it does to speak the same idea plainly.

In addition, you understand a set of secret signs and symbols used to convey short, simple messages, such as whether an area is dangerous or the territory of a thieves' guild, whether loot is nearby, or whether the people in an area are easy marks or will provide a safe house for thieves on the run.

Also, you learn one another language of your choice

Weapon Mastery

Class Feature

Your training with weapons allows you to use the mastery properties of two kinds of weapons of your choice with which you have proficiency, such as Daggers and Shortbows.

Whenever you finish a Long Rest, you can change the kinds of weapons you chose. For example, you could switch to using the mastery properties of Scimitars and Shortswords.

Nick

Class Feature

Prerequisite: Light Property

When you make the extra attack of the Light property, you can make it as part of the Attack action, instead of as a Bonus Action. You can still make this extra attack only once per turn.

Vex

Class Feature

Prerequisite: Ammunition, Finesse, or Light Property

If you hit a creature with this weapon and deal damage to the creature, you have Advantage on your next attack roll against that creature before the end of your next turn.

Cunning Action

Class Feature

Your quick thinking and agility allow you to move and act quickly. On your turn, you can take one of the following actions as a Bonus Action: Dash, Disengage, or Hide.

Steady Aim

Class Feature

As a Bonus Action, you give yourself Advantage on your next attack roll on the current turn. You can use this feature only if you haven't moved during this turn, and after you use it, your Speed is 0 until the end of the current turn.

Cunning Strike

Class Feature

You've developed cunning ways to use your Sneak Attack. When you deal Sneak Attack damage, you can add one of the following Cunning Strike effects.

Each effect has a die cost, which is the number of Sneak Attack damage dice you must forgo to add the effect. You remove the die before rolling, and the effect occurs immediately after the attack's damage is dealt. For example, if you add the Poison effect, remove 1d6 from the Sneak Attack's damage before rolling.

If a Cunning Strike effect requires a saving throw, the DC equals 8 + your Proficiency Bonus + your Dexterity modifier.

- Poison (Cost: 1d6).
- You add a toxin to your strike, forcing the target to make a Constitution saving throw. On a failed save, the target has the Poisoned condition for 1 minute. At the end of each of its turns, the Poisoned target repeats the save, ending the effect on itself on a success. To use this effect, you must have a Poisoner's Kit on your person.
- Trip (Cost: 1d6).
- If the target is Large or smaller, it must succeed on a Dexterity saving throw or have the Prone condition.
- Withdraw (Cost: 1d6).
- Immediately after the attack, you move up to half your Speed without provoking Opportunity Attacks.

Uncanny Dodge

Class Feature

When an attacker that you can see hits you with an attack roll, you can take a Reaction to halve the attack's damage against you (round down).

Rogue(2024) — HailJoe Classes

Sanctified Champion

Archetype Feature

At 3rd level, your intense training bears fruit, granting you proficiency with martial weapons and medium armor. At the end of a long rest, you can perform a ritual on a melee weapon you are proficient with that deals piercing or slashing damage, sanctifying it. It becomes your sanctified blade, and you can only have one such blade at a time. When in your hands, your sanctified blade has the finesse property and is considered silvered.

Blade of Radiance — Steinhardt's Guide to the Eldritch Hunt

Divine Blessings

Archetype Feature

Also at 3rd level, your devotion to eradicating enemies of the Church is made manifest by the righteous powers you wield. You have a pool of points that you can expend to fuel this divine power called Divine points. The number of points in the pool equals 1 + your Wisdom modifier (minimum 1). You regain all your expended Divine points when you finish a short or long rest. In addition, each time you kill an aberration, beast, fiend, or undead of CR ½ or higher with your sanctified blade, you regain one Divine point. Each time you expend a Divine point you gain temporary hit points equal to your Wisdom modifier.

Saving Throws. Some of your divine attacks require your target to make a saving throw to resist the effects. The saving throw DC is calculated as follows:

Radiance save DC = 8 + your proficiency bonus + your Wisdom modifier

You know the following features that each use your Divine points.

Armor of the Faithful. When a creature targets you with an attack, you can expend one Divine point as a reaction. The target must make a Wisdom saving throw against your Radiance save DC. On a failed save, the creature must choose a new target or lose the attack or spell, and the creature can't target you until the start of your next turn. This feature doesn't protect you from area effects, such as the explosion of a fireball.

Divine Inspiration. When you make a Religion, a History, or an Insight check, you can expend one Divine point to reroll the die and must use the new result. You can choose to do so after you roll the die, but before the outcome is determined. You gain a bonus to the check equal to your Wisdom modifier.

Rend the Blasphemous. On your turn after taking the Attack action with your sanctified blade, you can expend one Divine point as bonus action to let the divine hand guide you. Make a weapon attack against a creature within your reach. You gain a bonus to your attack roll equal to your Wisdom modifier.

Blade of Radiance — Steinhardt's Guide to the Eldritch Hunt

Rage

Class Feature

In battle, you fight with primal ferocity. On your turn, you can enter a rage as a bonus action. While raging, you gain the following benefits if you aren't wearing heavy armor:

- You have advantage on Strength checks and Strength saving throws.
- When you make a melee weapon attack using Strength, you gain a bonus to the damage roll that increases as you gain levels as a barbarian, as shown in the Rage Damage column of the Barbarian table.
- You have resistance to bludgeoning, piercing, and slashing damage.

If you are able to cast spells, you can't cast them or concentrate on them while raging.

Your rage lasts for 1 minute. It ends early if you are knocked unconscious or if your turn ends and you haven't attacked a hostile creature since your last turn or taken damage since then. You can also end your rage on your turn as a bonus action.

Once you have raged the number of times shown for your barbarian level in the Rages column of the Barbarian table, you must finish a long rest before you can rage again.

Barbarian — Player's Handbook

Unarmored Defense

Class Feature

While you are not wearing any armor, your Armor Class equals 10 + your Dexterity modifier + your Constitution modifier. You can use a shield and still gain this benefit.

Barbarian — Player's Handbook

Reckless Attack

Class Feature

Starting at 2nd level, you can throw aside all concern for defense to attack with fierce desperation. When you make your first attack on your turn, you can decide to attack recklessly. Doing so gives you advantage on melee weapon attack rolls using Strength during this turn, but attack rolls against you have advantage until your next turn.

Barbarian — Player's Handbook

Danger Sense

Class Feature

At 2nd level, you gain an uncanny sense of when things nearby aren't as they should be, giving you an edge when you dodge away from danger.

You have advantage on Dexterity saving throws against effects that you can see, such as traps and spells. To gain this benefit, you can't be blinded, deafened, or incapacitated.

Barbarian — Player's Handbook

Extra Attack

Class Feature

Beginning at 5th level, you can attack twice, instead of once, whenever you take the Attack action on your turn.

Barbarian — Player's Handbook

Fast Movement

Class Feature

Starting at 5th level, your speed increases by 10 feet while you aren't wearing heavy armor.

Barbarian — Player's Handbook

Ancestral Protectors

Archetype Feature

Starting when you choose this path at 3rd level, spectral warriors appear when you enter your rage. While you're raging, the first creature you hit with an attack on your turn becomes the target of the warriors, which hinder its attacks. Until the start of your next turn, that target has disadvantage on any attack roll that isn't against you, and when the target hits a creature other than you with an attack, that creature has resistance to the damage dealt by the attack. The effect on the target ends early if your rage ends.

Path of the Ancestral Guardian — Xanathar's Guide to Everything

Spirit Shield

Archetype Feature

Beginning at 6th level, the guardian spirits that aid you can provide supernatural protection to those you defend. If you are raging and another creature you can see within 30 feet of you takes damage, you can use your reaction to reduce that damage by 2d6. When you reach certain levels in this class. you can reduce the damage by more: by 3d6 at 10th level and by 4d6 at 14th level.
